

Rhodri is a Sustainability Consultant and educator who left an acting career to influence professionals across the arts, multinationals, councils and social enterprises to embed sustainable practices into core business.

For more than 10 years, he has been helping organisations transition from risk and compliance to innovation approaches on climate change, renewable energy, resource management, biodiversity, stakeholder engagement, wellbeing and health.

Rhodri possesses diverse skills in facilitating learning through informal and accredited courses, communicating complex ideas and helping people make strategic decisions.

His career journey has evolved from 13 years as an actor, writer and producer in theatre, tv, film and radio into an influencer and communicator of sustainable development at Forum for The Future, Environment Agency Wales, and University of Glamorgan. He is now the Principal Sustainability Consultant and Training Manager at Cynnal Cymru-Sustain Wales.

Rhodri has a BSc.(hons) in Environmental Biology, an MSc. in Environmental Management and a PGCE in adult education.